

The Proof Behind Our Promise

Our Fortify the Future™ commitment becomes more credible when teams can point to specific proof. Zinpro® has measurable examples of progress across operations, customer outcomes and enterprise credibility. These proof points give teams language they can use quickly and confidently with customers, distributors and partners, and that we can all be proud of as an organization.

Customer Outcomes

In animal agriculture, the strongest sustainability stories are the ones linked to performance, efficiency and ROI. Our product proof helps make that link visible.

Feeding Zinpro® IsoFerm® improved feed efficiency by an average of 5%, correlating to a 5.7% reduction in CO₂eq per 1,000 kg of milk, or 70 kg less CO₂eq.

In broilers, feeding 60 ppm zinc from Zinpro® Sole Source™ resulted in +77g body weight and -2.64 feed conversion rate points. It also improved breast meat yield by 1.32%, thigh meat yield by 1.02% and delivered a 4:1 ROI.

Nursery pigs fed Zinpro® Availa® Zn saw +10.3% feed intake in the early nursery period and +3.8% across the full nursery period.

Nile tilapia fed Zinpro® Iron showed +20% hemoglobin and +55% final body weight.

Companion animal studies focused on re-assuring customers and consumers of the impact our products have on wellbeing, what they care the most: skin, coat, activity.

The Proof Behind Our Promise

Operational Proof Points

We're not just focused on customer impact. We're also measuring our own footprint, which adds credibility with our customers and partners.

From 2022 to 2024, Zinpro® reduced total Scope 1 and 2 emissions intensity by 9%, reflecting ongoing work to improve efficiency while lowering environmental impact.

From 2021 to 2024, total water withdrawals declined by 22% and water intensity improved by 24%.

In 2024, Zinpro diverted 51% of waste from landfill, giving teams a measurable operational proof point to cite.

Enterprise Commitment Proof Points

Customers increasingly want partners that can back claims with governance, expectations and science. Zinpro is continuing to build credibility through company-wide action.

Supplier Expectations Formalized

Zinpro created its first Supplier Code of Conduct, grounded in core values and integrated into supplier contracts and communications.

Science Remains the Trust Engine

The 2025 Sustainability Report highlights the Zinpro 400th peer-reviewed publication. Research is the foundation of customer trust, data-backed claims and long-term credibility.

Together, these proof points help teams show that sustainability at Zinpro is not abstract. It is increasingly measurable, commercially relevant and backed by science.
